

Join William H. Sadler – Shaping the Future of Education for Nearly Two Centuries!

For 192 years, William H. Sadler has been a trusted partner in empowering educators and inspiring students nationwide. Our innovative K–12 resources combine academic excellence with faith formation, equipping the next generation of leaders. As a family-owned business, we remain committed to integrity, creativity, and fostering an inclusive workplace where employees thrive. If you're passionate about transforming education, join us at Sadler and make a lasting impact—one student at a time.

Sales Representative - New York City Private & Parochial Schools

We're seeking a strategic and dynamic sales professional to grow our New York City territory. You'll build strong relationships, solve customer challenges, and drive sales of our educational textbooks and digital products.

Key Responsibilities:

- Develop and execute strategic territory plans to achieve sales goals.
- Build and maintain influential relationships with key stakeholders (e.g., Curriculum Directors, Principals, Superintendents, Directors of Religious Education).
- Promote and demonstrate our print and digital solutions to current and prospective clients.
- Meet annual sales quotas and maintain CRM records.
- Monitor market trends and participate in industry events.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree required. Teaching or K–12 leadership experience preferred.
- 2+ years of enterprise sales experience, preferably in education.
- Strong technology skills and ability to sell blended print and digital solutions.
- Excellent communication, problem-solving, and consultative sales skills.
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office and CRM tools.

If you're results-driven, customer-focused, and ready to make a difference in education, apply today! Together, let's shape the future.