

Shape the Future with Sadlier—Join Us Today!

For 192 years, William H. Sadlier has been more than just an educational publisher; we've been a trusted partner in empowering educators to inspire and guide the next generation. Our proven methods have transformed K–12 classrooms across the country, ensuring that the essentials for academic success and faith formation are met with excellence. When it comes to laying the groundwork for tomorrow's leaders, our experience makes all the difference.

As one of the few family-owned businesses to thrive for almost two centuries, the Sadlier family proudly continues the vision of our founders with integrity, creativity, and an unwavering commitment to educational excellence.

Our story is one of triumph, driven by generations of perseverance and dedication to a singular vision of service and excellence. But our success is not just about our past—it's about our people. At Sadlier, our employees are the driving force behind our mission to inform and transform learners in every educational setting, for life. We believe in providing meaningful, challenging work in a dynamic, collaborative environment where innovation thrives.

We are equally committed to fostering a safe and inclusive workplace that champions diversity, equity, and inclusion for all. If you're passionate about making a difference and your values align with ours, we invite you to come and work with us at Sadlier. Together, let's continue to shape the future—one student at a time.

Technical Product Manager (focusing on Accessibility)- synthesizes business and pedagogical needs and uses them to define technical requirements for their digital product, validating that product throughout the development process. The technical product manager will be a member of a cross-functional team focused on developing innovative instructional and learning programs for the K-12 classroom. They will collaborate closely with Engineering, Strategy, Design, Editorial, Production, Sales, Marketing, and Business Management.

Core Responsibilities:

- Contribute to Agile product development team as Product Owner, attending daily Scrum meetings, keeping Scrum artifacts visible, helping resolve impediments to the team, and assisting with sprint planning and review meetings.
- Based on user requirements and business input (publishing, marketing, sales, legal, operations) writes requirements (user stories and acceptance criteria) for new products.
- Works collaboratively across the engineering organization to design, implement, and test features.

- Collaborates with stakeholders across the business, gathering input to drive definition of technical requirements and reporting back on incremental progress made toward success metrics.

Education, Experience, Skills Required:

- A passion for and 2+ years of experience in Educational Technology
- A collaborative orientation with an agile mindset - Enjoy adapting to feedback from both users and internal stakeholders, building stronger products as a result
- Ability to assess customer needs and translate them into product requirements.
- Experience using data to inform design and product decisions
- Ability to work creatively and effectively within constraints
- Strong presentation skills used for presenting internally to leadership team members as well as running customer demonstration sessions
- Excellent time management skills and ability to manage deadlines in a fast-paced environment

Salary: $80-$100k

Location: NY (hybrid, 3 days in office, 2 days work from home)